

Wyatt Kash

Content Director/Editor at Large, 1105 Media – Events

Wyatt Kash has worked in the business-to-business media field as a journalist, editor, publishing executive and commentator for the past three decades, earning the respect of executives in several major industries—including the government and defense technology sector, the U.S. home building industry and the global retail home improvement market.

Over his career, he has held senior management positions at several leading business media companies including The Washington Post's Tech Media division, Hanley Wood, Lebhar-Friedman and most recently with 1105 Media.

His editorial teams have won seven Jesse H. Neal Awards and more than 30 other awards for business journalism excellence over the last decade. His editorials on behalf of Government Computer News, Defense Systems, Government Leader, Big Builder and National Home Center News have helped define and advance the issues shaping the industries his publications covered. He also has been recognized as an innovator in adapting emerging technologies to create new media products for the audiences his publications have served.

The Board of Judges for the 2011 Crain Award:

BILL McDOWELL
VP/Editorial Director
Marketing & Technology Group

BOB TIPPEE
Editor
Oil & Gas Journal
Pennwell Corporation

JANICE L. TUCHMAN
Editor in Chief
Engineering News-Record
The McGraw-Hill Companies